

Mission Statement

To make easy-to-use, quality software freely available to everyone; and to help non-technical users to better protect themselves and their information online.